

Muslim Women in the West

A talk by Dr. Sophia Pandya

Professor Sophia Pandya specializes in women, Islam, and globalization. She received her BA from UC Berkeley in Near Eastern Studies/Arabic, and her MA and PhD from UCSB in Religious Studies, with a focus on women and Islam. Dr. Pandya is a professor in California State University, Long Beach.

Place: EA 160

Date: Thursday, April 22nd

Time: 6:30 PM

Students for Dialogue (SFD) is a multicultural award-winning student club in OSU and has been serving the OSU community since 2002. SFD aims to foster understanding between people of different backgrounds and help us see and appreciate the good in each other. For more information:

<http://sfd.org.ohio-state.edu/>

